Sorry to bug you again but I have two follow up questions if I may.

Can you comment on why the board decided to invest in Israel bonds? How will this mandate be funded?

Can you also tell me if anything came out of the private debt discussion? What are the next steps in this process?

Thanks again for all your help today.

For the second part of question 1, I expect the mandate to be funded through cash flows based on actual values compared to target asset allocation targets at the time of funding.
